A Pleasant Surprise and Testimenial.

Our esteemed townsman, Thomas Smith, Esq., having recently retired from business, is former employees resolved on presenting him a testimonial of their regard, and afte due consultation, selected a massive marble clock and mantel, surmounted with peautiful bronze figure, as the expression of their sentiments of esteem. The donors and a select company of friends accordingly met at the private rooms of Mr. Geo. W. Armstrong, in Fletcher's block, last evening, at which time and place it was ar ranged that Mr. Smith should be invited to attend, and where he appeared, without nistrusting that the object of the assembly had anything more than ordinary social significance; whereupon Mr. Armstrong requested Mr. Smith to give his personal attention to a few remarks he had to make, and drawing from his breast pocket a manuscript, read the following letter:

We have selected as such memorial this marble clock and man-tle, for a household ornament and reason, which shall be as lasting as time tself. We are reminded to say, that unlike this instrument, we have never had a desire "to strike" in your employ, but in ne respect there is a resemblance suggested. You have always been prompt, and rue, exact but not exacting. Your orders have never grated harshly on our ears, but have always had, the clear and silver ring of personal kindness and good will. And now sir, on behalf of these friends, I heg your acceptance of this testimonial sincerely given, and may kind Heaven grant to you many, many happy hours, in a long and useful life.

The Court appointed Hon Alexander King, of Bedford county, foreman of the Grand Jury. The members thereof took their seats; and were sworn in the court appointed Hon Bernard Hon Hon Alexander King, of Bedford county, foreman of the Grand Jury. The members thereof took their seats; and were sworn in their seats; and were sworn in the court of the table, they will be sufficiently preserved through the time of an ordinary meal.

But the court is a good deed of ic unnecessarily used on the table. If butter and other articles which it is desired to the table, they will be sufficiently preserved through the time of an ordinary mean.

They were charged by Judge McCand-less, who stated in substance, that the Court had nothing new to communicate Court had nothing new to communicate as to the laws. Last year some changes were made in the Judicial Department, by which the Judge of the Circuit Court, became such in fact. Herotofore the Circuit Court had been held by the Supreme Judge and District Judge sitting together or by either alone. By the Act of '69, Congress had created a new office, the United States constituting nine Judicial Districts for the holding of Circuit Courts, of which the Hon. William McKenn in, who first took his seat in this city, in Junuary last, had been appointed city, in January last, had been appointed Circuit Judge of the Third District, comprising the States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. The Circuit Court has concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court in all criminal offences against the United States, and jurisdiction in all civil cases where the amount at stake is the cordial co-operation of your late partner and friend, Mr. Holbrook, desired to take this occasion to present you with some are residents of different States. It has all the powers of the High Court of Chancery in England; appeals, may lie from the District to the Circuit Court, and from the Circuit to the Supreme Court. As now constituted, the Circuit Court is held by the Supreme Judge and Circuit Judge sitting together, in which case the former presides, by the Circuit Judge and District Judge sitting together, the Circuit Judge presiding, or by either of the three alone.

The District Court has no common law The District Court has no common law jurisdiction, but is statutory, taking cognizance only of offences-against acts of Congress. The United States District Attorney is your legal adviser. He has nothing to do with the facts. If you doubt his opinion as to law, you may appeal to the Court. I am advised that you will have some cases pertaining to infractions of the post office laws. The great bulk of social and business correspondence of the nation is carried on through the mails, and they must be guarded with the greatest sanctity. To stead from the mails is a very high crime, and he who is in the service of the department and steals from them, is doubly guilty, as he adds perjury to his crime. The lutornal Revenue laws presents many cases in this Court. We have been in session for the past eleven months, trying cases are for the past eleven months, trying cases aris-ing from the breaking or evasion of the stat-utes; however onerous or odious some of the enactments may appear, they are the law, and must be enforced. You may have before you some cases of counterfeiting. You must inquire whether there has been any smuggling on the border. I am informed by the Collector that since the establishment of this Court here, snuggling hereabouts has almost entirely ceased. I will ment of this Court here, snuggling hereabouts has almost entirely ceased. I will also call your attention to a clause in the Bankrupt Law (Sec. 44) which makes it criminal for a bankrupt to defraud his creditors by false statements as to losses, by concealment or disposal of property, etc. The various carees for your action will be laid before you by the District Attorney. Pass upon them in accordance with the oth you have taken.

The jury were then dismissed, and retired to their room.

TRIAL LIST.—CASES OFF.

The lists for trial, as heretofore published, were called over. District Attorney Swope stated that he had received a telegram from Commissioner Delano, ordering the discontinuance of the indictment against T. A. McFarland et al. A number of civil cases, against the same parties, were also announced settled. The case against Henry Hornstein, of Meadville, was continued, by order of the Attorney General. The cases vs. Jno. S. Newkirk. Robert Mellór and Charles Shaver, were continued at the request of the District Attorney, on account of the absence of the principal witness, a man named Leroy, whom Judge McCandless had recently sent to the penitentiary. The case against the Eric City Oil Works was continued by direction of the Department, pending an offer of compromise; also, that vs. Albert R. Cool Water Without Icc.

The New York Star, that sparkles so brightly in the horizon of journalism, has the following seasonable remarks on ice:

In the first place let us look to our refrigerators. If they are old, leaky and out of repair, they will waste ice at an alarming rate. They should be kept in a cool place (if there is any such a place) and opened as little as possible; and the ice should not be broken into small pieces. In the second place, there is a good deal of ice unnecessarily used on the table. If butter and other articles which it is desired to the following seasonable remarks on ice:

The water is kept in a percas earthen jar, which is sur-rounded with a wet cloth, and the whole rounded with a wet cloth, and the whole apparatus is suspended in a draught of arr, away from the direct rays of the sun. The evaporation of water through the pores of and from the outside of the jar keeps the interior coef. If water preserved in this manner is not quite cold enough to suit the taste of us modern teototallers, who, like the variest old topers, like to feel what we drink "all the way down," it will at least be much cooler than that which we ordinarily draw from Croton or Ridgewood, and a comparatively small amount of ice will reduce it to the desired temperature.

HEARD FROM AGAIN.—We has tweek inquired what had become of our Tona-wanda Swamp Oil seekers. This week we hear from them again by way of a correspondent of the Orleans Republican, who visited them a few days since. It will be recollected by our readers that we published the fact sometime last season, that a spring or stream of water of valuable medicinal properties had been "struck" in boring the first well, and that at the advice or direction of Spirits the search for oil was discontinued at that point and the well tubed for the purpose of preserving the water pure. Another well was commenced some S0 or 100 rods from the first. The first well is just over the line, in Orleans county, the second, in this county. The correspondent above referred to says; "Mrs. Collins, the owner and prosecutor of this work, is sanguine in the belief of success, as she ought to be seeing her outlay for land, work, and other expenses attondant upon it, has equalled, or exceeded, she says, $50,000. There is a steam engine, and two sets of hands, digging night and day, going down from two to ten feet every twenty-four hours. Last Saturday night, when stopping for Sunday, it was down S11 feet, and they intend to go 300 or 400 feet wither, unless the oil is struck before. A good road is to be made from the main road immediately, when it will be as pleasant a ride from Albion or Starvia to the springs as can be found in this section of the country, and we understand it is the intention to provide a temporary place for refreshments until a permanent HEARD FROM AGAIN.-We last week section of the country, and we understand it is the intention to provide a temporary place for refreshments until a permanent hotel and cure can be completed. In the meantime, many invalids are resorting to the water, and with signal benefit in rheumatic complaints, kidney difficulties, obstinate constipated habits, &c. "So, you see, neighbors and friends, we are to have a watering place in our immediate vicinity, even though we may fail in oil.—Batavian.

Republican has the following:

Mr. Mathew Bole, son of William J. Bole, of Venango township, while working at Patterson's Landing, on the Allegheny river, ran a nail into his foot. After several days the foot became inflamed, and, on the 8th instant, he died of lock-jaw. His remains were brought home for interment. He leaves a large circle of friends, who deeply sympathize with the sorrowing parents of the deceased.

The team of Mr. Jefford Wilber, of Rockdale township, on the afternoon of the 5th instant, while drawing lumber-from Perkins & Wilber's saw-milt to Miller's Station, took fright and ran away, and in jumping from the loaded wagon Mr. Wilber got his feet entangled in the lines, and was dragged over eighty rods, and rescived in vivoe from his but the lines, and was dragged over eighty rods. Catching a Fly in Church.
From the Lima (Ohio) Gazette.

From the Lima (Ohio) Gazette.

A lady in one of our churches rested her head on the back of the pew in front, as all devout people do in time of prayer, but in the pew before her sat a young man who neither bowed his head nor kneeled.

A beautiful plume nodded and danced upon the head of the fair one behind him, occasionally touching the neck of the youth who evidently considered it a fly or some other troublesome insect. For a time he bore the unpleasant sensation without a murmur, but at last patience ceased to be a virtue, and from the tlash of his eagle eye one could plainly see that the hour of "that fly" had come. Instead of saying "shoo fly dofft bodder me," cautiously his hand moved toward the supposed offending insect; then followed a frantic clutch and a spring behind him. Imagine the horror of the youth to find in his hand the nobby hat of the fair one, which he had torn violently from her head, sadly disarranging the contour of braids and chignon. The lady was indignant, of course, and the youth could have been purchased at an immense sacrifice about that time. Explanations and apologies followed, and the disorganized hat was put in order as soon as possible, and the devotional exercises were resumed. non. Hills.
